January 2009

Happy New Year to you all!

As I write this it is snowing heavily and more subzero temps are on their way. I can get pretty crabby about snow, icy sidewalks and cold but yesterday Steve and I went out with our two grandkids, Ben and Ena, to play in the snow. We walked along the frozen creek marveling at walking on frozen water and it was truly beautiful with the late afternoon sun casting everything in that light that is unique to winter. I know it can sound clichéd, but really looking at everything through a child's eyes refreshes one's perspective. And in January a little refreshing is a good thing. May you find something that refreshes your soul in this winter landscape.

What is SoulCollage? It is a unique blend of art (the fun of collage) and soul (spiritual practice). For more info go to Seena Frost's (the creator) website: www.soulcollage.com Below is a card I made last winter attending the SoulCollage Facilitator training in California. Honestly, everyone who has done this loves it. If you are in need of reconnecting with your creative self come to one or both of these workshops.

Tarot Card of the Month: Justice

2009 is a Justice year (2+0+0+9=11). In Tarot tradition the Justice card belongs to Libra, the astrological air sign of social justice and balance. Key themes include coming back into equilibrium, taking responsibility for our actions, and being true to our own deep inner nature. A challenging card, Justice can work on us by giving us what we need rather than what we want in order to bring us back into harmony. The Motherpeace Tarot Justice, below, emphasizes the importance of balance and harmony within ourselves and the natural world. I think this card is perfect for us and our world right now. Libra loves beauty and harmony and wants to bring the world to a peaceful coexistence. I can't think of anything more perfect to wish for all of us in this new year.

Blessings,
Kate
